Difficulty of Work

Incumbents must deal with a variety of changing situations and deal with a variety of individuals under possible threatening and stressful conditions. The incumbent must determine proper and legal courses of action and solve practical problems using skills and techniques of police science, following general and broad department procedures and within a framework of ordinances, statutes, laws and court decisions. The nature of the work precludes the application of specific guidelines and set precedents. The incumbent is required to use individual judgement with wide latitude in decision making processes.

Responsibility

The incumbent receives guidance in the form of departmental policies, supervisory review of work accomplishments and the availability of senior officers for guidance in unique situations. The incumbent's actions and decisions, applied in critical and stressful situations, may affect the safety and lives of the incumbent, co-workers, suspects of illegal activities, and citizens of Hayden. Errors in judgement or action could affect citizen acceptance of the Police Department and/or financial and legal consequences. Decisions made by incumbents may have serious and far reaching effects on individuals.

Personal Relationships

The success of the incumbent in performing assigned work activities and the acceptance of the Police Department is dependent upon the working relations of the incumbent employee. The incumbent must effectively deal with individuals seeking assistance and advice, individuals under mental and emotional stress and individuals committing criminal offenses and threatening life and property. Incumbents must deal cooperatively and effectively with court officials, outside enforcement authorities, etc.

Physical Demands

The incumbent normally works under moderate physical demand while on patrol, however, may be subject to strenuous physical effort in the pursuit, apprehension and control of resisting and threatening individuals.

Working Conditions

Incumbents are subject to traffic hazards while patrolling and responding to emergencies in all traffic and weather conditions. The incumbent is exposed to verbal and physical abuse while performing assigned duties and may be threatened and/or attacked with dangerous weapons while dealing with criminal and emotionally disturbed individuals.
